

HOW WILL THE EVENTS OF 2020 SHAPE THE FUTURE OF INTERPROFESSIONAL EDUCATION AND COLLABORATIVE PRACTICE?

INTERPROFESSIONAL LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM (ILDP)

June 8-10, 2021

Virtual

The IPEC Interprofessional Leadership Development Program (ILDP) is a three-day, interactive professional development experience, distinguished by an emphasis on leading in an interprofessional environment. Deans and senior administrators from multiple schools at the same institution are strongly encouraged to attend along with their campus-wide IPE administrator. Participants will leave the program with a leadership action plan to move IPECP efforts forward at their institutions.

WHY SHOULD I PARTICIPATE?

The IPEC ILDP is a unique opportunity to:

- Assess leadership competencies associated with IPE and collaborative practice (CP)
- Identify ways of building senior interprofessional teams to lead IPECP
- Explore how to lead cultural and structural change required for IPECP
- Learn how to integrate IPECP into health systems, the university, and the community
- Develop approaches to conduct outcomes assessment and evaluate evidence for IPECP
- Engage with colleagues through case studies and models of successful IPECP initiatives

WHAT OTHERS SAY ABOUT THE IPEC LEADERSHIP PROGRAM:

“The IPEC ILDP was three engaging days worth three years of IPE program development. Great presentations, great participants, and great experience. IPE starts with collaboration!”
